

Compulsory Task 1

I would apply the new learning from this Software Engineering Bootcamp in an entrepreneurial opportunity. The skills I will acquire through this bootcamp are essential in supporting me to build an app, which can be applicable and useful to any business model. The knowledge of Python language can help me develop and put into practice my idea.

I have noticed the lack of options to facilitate the search and choice for certain niche products, such as Brazilian food in London. My main idea would be to create an app to help the search for Brazilian products and/or experiences in London. One that is capable of showing all of them in a map, for better visualization; and that allows a refined search.
